Wednesday, February 02, 2005 THE BAD There are two sides to any society. There is the GOOD and there is the BADD. For most of my life I had trouble knowing what was good and what was bad. Even in middle school I thought that folks who were nice in school weren't really "good" but just were trying to be "nice." Looking back on it, i think it's easier in a lot of ways to recognize what's good and what's bad than it is to know what's right and what's wrong. Life is too complicated to always know what's right and what's wrong, that's why the bad people win most of the time. Another thing that I learned along the way is that many bad people are really good actors. They make up fake stories about themselves, and use it to make themselves appear to be something that they aren't. I think it takes a lot of guts to be a good actor and to be able to play yourself so well that no one can tell you're faking it. There are many stories about good people who went bad. There are many stories about bad people who became good. There are many stories about people who don't know if they're good or bad. I'm sure that you can think of even more stories like those I mentioned. I can't think of a better way to start off the new year than to confess to the things I'm ashamed of. Maybe in the end good things come from those things. 7 Comments: Hey, i realize the post is from February, but I was just reading thru some of your older posts and your wordplay and fun style has never ceased to amaze me. One day you'll win a Pulitzer. You d0c515b9f4
